DECLINES IN ALL MARKETS.

WHEAT LOSES ONE CENT IN SPITE OF LEITER.

Northwest Receipts Light, but Crop Reports From California and India Were Bearish and Market Poorly Supported.

Chicago, Feb. 26.—It was a weak day in wheat, July at one time off Psc and May 2c. Closing prices showed a cent decline in both options. It was a showed a cent decline in both options. It was a narrow market and the weakness was due more to lack of support than to the news, which, however, favored lower prices. Other markets were barely steady at slight declines, corn and oats closing $5c lower each, and provisions declining 2'265c, pork being the weakest thing on the list.

For a few minutes after the start, wheat, com-pared with the weakness it developed later, was fairly steady. July started his lower to he higher, pared with the weakness it developed later, was fairly steady. July started he lower to he higher, at from 85he to 85he, and May he lower, at $1.03. Leiter's brokers appeared to have some supporting orders in July at the start, and for this reason that month showed steadiness until May weakened badly. Then July followed. Trading in May was very light. There were a good many more selling orders than the limited demand could take care of, the result being a decline to $1.02. A reaction to $1.02%, followed, then the market broke again, and worse than before. May this time going to $1.01%. The continued increasing production of contract wheat by the mixers, apparently affected May. Forty-three cars of No. 1 Northern were reported out of private houses to-day and twenty-two ears from regular sources. Most of the routine news favored sellers. World's shipments of 1.000,000 bushels were looked for next week. Liverpool was from he holder, and crop reports from California and India, especially from the latter country, were very tavorable. The day's clearances from Atlantic ports were equal to $12.000 bushels. Northwest receipts were light at 190 cars, against 242 list week and 230 a year ago. Chicago receipts amounted to 32 cars. The weakness which developed in May was soon reflected in July. There was a good deal of selling out by people who have been "talling" on the Leiter suprian, and who had become discouraged by the recent downward turn to the market, and prices, in spite of the Leiter support, declined steadily. At around 88 he for July, the market bestated for a time. A period of dullness and narrow fluctuations set in, but about half an hour from the close the market had in the meantime railied to $1.02, declining to $1.01%. Shortly before the close Leiter's brokers again gave the market some support, this time in hour about half an hour from the close the market period of dullness and narrow fluctuations set in, but about half an hour from the close the market in the selling pressure and starting a little cove closed.

Corn was well held, despite the weakness of wheat. There were plenty of selling orders, but offerings were well taken, several of the larger holders increasing their lines; and prices did not drop much. A good cash demand was a factor in steadying the market. May ranged from 25% $225 to 20% $225 to, and closed May ranged from 15% 615% to 25% 615% and closed the lower at 25%. The steady feeling in corn was reflected in oats, and prices suffered but little. Some weakness was shown at the opening, but there were plenty of buying orders at the slight decline. Triding, as a whole, was limited. Cash demand was reported fair. May ranged from 26% to 25% 62%, and closed the lower at 26c.

A large trade was done in provisions. Selling, expectally of pork, was very heavy. The market at first was very well supported, and even advanced for a time, but the effect of the heavy liquidation was utilimately felt. Selling was mostly by commission houses. At the close, May pork was 15c lower at 25.67%, and May 17th 5c lower at 25.67%.

The market went down again yesterday under lib were lower and the news was bearish. The growing crop. It is said, promises well, and in India the outlook as the best for years. The exports for the week were lighter than the week previous, and stocks in the United Kingdom are expected to show an increase at the next report. With such a general situation the 'bears' had little trouble breaking the market and that hadly. May wheat in Chicago at one time soid 2c lower and then rallied and closed it lower than Friday, and cash here broke hadly in sym this reduction. Elevator men and millers were both in the market, but they did much picking around.

The world's wheat shipments are expected to be 5,809,000 bushels for the week, and some decrease is looked for in the amount on ocean passage. A London cable reads: The Calcutta correspon of the Times says there is every prospect of of the best harvests ever gathered in India. B. C. Christopher & Co. received a special fron California yesterday which said, owing to recen rains the young wheat is looking very fine. A Chicago message yesterday said: We understand that a premium of ½ per cent war risk is demanded on cargoes in Spanish bottoms at Lloyds in London. Exporters took at New York Friday 96,000 bushels of No. 2 red wheat for direct milling ports, also 16,000 bushels of corn and 69,000 bushels of corts at

"I have been over the Indian Territory and Oklahoms within a fortnight," says J. W. Helm, of Fort Worth, in the Chicago Times-Herald. "The wheat is as good this year as last at this time, and the area larger. Texas and Oklahoma, and the Indian Territory, have had an abupdance of rain, the condition we need out there, and the winter wheat prospect could not be better. The wheat resembles a grass plot through Texas. We harvest in the middle of May. Our people are bearish on the new crop at present prices."

Yesterday's clearances for export at the four Atlantic ports were 28,622 bushels of wheat, 25,934 packages of flour, 332,630 bushels of corn, 183,567 bushels of oats and 17,143 bushels of rye. Stocks and Bonds.

New York, Feb. 28.—The stock market was listless and without decided tone to-day. The net changes were trivial in most cases, and the market moved up and down within a narrow range. London buying gave a slight upward impetus at the opening, and then profit taking by yesterday's buyers drove prices below last night's level. The close was above the lowest, but net changes were much mixed. The course of prices was unsettled and conflicting in the final dealings, some stocks moving upward and others downward simultaneously, and apparently without manipulation. The whole of the trading was by small room traders, and large operators were apparently content to stand by for the present and watch the course of things. Some few stocks were notably firm all day, such as the Reading and Erie issues, Northern Facific and some of the Southern and Southwestern roads. Canadian Pacific also ruled higher. The bank statement was without particular effect, as the New York, Feb. 26.-The stock market was listleern roads. Canadian rather also rules higher. The bank statement was without particular effect, as the conditions disclosed had made themselves felt during the week. The heavy decrease in loans indicates liquidation on the Stock exchange, but probably does not fully measure it, as the loans which have been called have been in part replaced in time loans and commercial names. alled nave over the period of the points lower prices of standard stocks are 1 to 5 points lower han a week ago, declines in the speculative bond issues are 1 to 5 per cent, government bonds are 146 per cent lower, call money rates have risen from the period of the pe Siles are 1 to 3 per tent, government tomas are 1730 and 51% per cent lower, call money rates have risen from 11% to 3 per cent, and exchange has fallen to the gold import point, with $2,200,000 engaged for shipment or pessage. This, in brief, represents the changes in the financial situation from last Saturday. Prices of stocks are considerably above the low point of Thursday morning, when the downward plunge took on panic conditions for a time.

Dry Goods.

New York, Feb. 25.—The week in dry goods has been satisfactory in the main, with a fairly well sustained business reported at first hands. With Jobbers there has been a widening of demand marking the visits of buyers to the local market, which has bettered the general situation to no mean degree. There is still a very fair showing of buyers at second hand in the market. In the primary market the price remains firm. Cottons are still in steady request. Print cloths show poor results for the week. The quotation is still 2 3-16c for extras. Printed cottons and wash goods are still firm and in fairly active request.

JEALOUSY AS A DISEASE.

A London Doctor's Peculiar Experience With a Woman Patient.

Dr. William O'Neill, late physician to sev eral Lincoln institutions, sends the following account of a strange experience to the Lancet. It describes a case of that very old and commonplace complaint, jeal-the Lancet. It describes a case of that very old and commonplace complaint, jealousy, or "spirit of jealousy," as it is named in the Scriptures, where it is fully described and treated.

Some years ago, he states, I was requested to visit a lady who, it was represented to me, was very ill, and required immediate attention. On entering the house I was shown into the so-called sick room, in which there were three persons, all of whom seemed to be in good health. There were present an old lady (owner of the house), and her daughter, who had arrived a few days previously from a neighboring county to spend two or three weeks with her mother, and the daughter's husband, whose visit was only to be for a day or two. The man was about 35 years of age, small in stature, swarthy in complexion and plain looking. The wife was a striking contrast to her husband. She was rather tall, remarkably fair and handsome and was a few years younger than her good man, I asked which of them was the patient, but no answer having been given to my incourty. I asked again. Then the younger no answer having been given to my in-quiry, I asked again. Then the younger lady, with some hesitation, said:

no answer having been given to my inquiry. I asked again. Then the younger lady, with some hesitation, said:

"I am the patient, and my complaint is jealousy. I am jealous of my husband, and if you do not give me something to relieve me I shall go out of my mind."

This accusation against the little man seemed to me to be most ridiculous; indeed, I could not help thinking that if the accuser had been the accused it would have been more in the nature of things. I assured the lady I was extremely sorry for her, the more so that I was quite incompetent to treat such a case. The husband protested his innocence and declared there was no cause whatever for her accusations. The wife persisted in reiterating them, and so the wrangle went on till suddenly she fell from her chair on the floor in a fit, the spasmodic movements of which were strangs and varied.

At one moment the patient was extended at full length with her body arched forward in a state of opisthotonos. The next minute she was in a sitting position with the legs drawn up, making, while her hands clutched her throat, a gutteral noise. Then she would throw herself on her back and thrust her arms and legs about, to the no small danger of those around her. Then, becoming comparatively quiet and supine, she would put herself in the most grotesque postures and make the most unlovely grimaces.

At last the fit ended, and, exhausted and

At last the fit ended, and, exhausted and in tears, she was put to bed.

The patient was a lithe, muscular woman, and to restrain her movements during the attack with the assistance at hand was a matter of impossibility; so all that could be done was to prevent her injuring her-self, and to sprinkle her freely with cold water self, and to sprinkle her treely with cold water.

The after treatment was more geographical than medical. The husband ceased doing business in a certain town where the object of his wife's suspicions lived. He was enabled to do so by the kindness of a friend, who exchanged part of his district with him.

The fit was not the disease, but it was the symptoms or manifestation of a mind diseased or deranged, the state of the mind being the result of a woman's broodings over her real or imaginary wrongs.

Crimenn Wheat.

Wellington, Kas., Feb. 26.—(Special.) Willis K. Folks has a jar of Crimean wheat in his office which was raised on a Harvey county farm near Newton. The wheat was imported from Turkey and coat is per was raised on a Harvey county farm near Newton. The wheat was imported from Turkey and cost $5 per bushel. Mr. Folks is experimenting this year with thirty acres of the wheat. The wheat which was raised at Newton last year averaged something over thirty bushels to the acre, and the growth was so scant that the owner came very near plowing it up in the spring, but allowed it to grow in order to see what it would do,

MR. DRAPER'S DEATH NOTICE. He Caused Its Publication in Order to Bring His Wife Home-He Succeeded. From the New York Sun.

Among the death notices published in one of the newspapers in this city on Sunday, was the following:

of the newspapers in this city on Sunday, was the following:

DRAPER.—Suddenly, at Flushing, L. L. William V. Draper, in his 29th year.

Notice of funeral hereafter.

Friends of the family who called at "The Roost," the residence of the Drapers at Flushing, to offer their condolences to the bereaved widow and other members of the household were gratified, although considerably surprised, to find that Mr. Draper was not in need of immediate interment. He had been ill for several weeks but is far from being a dead man.

According to a member of the family, Mr. Draper himself prepared and sent the death notice to the paper. He had been extremely ill and at times delirious. His wife was worn out by the strain of constant attendance upon the sick man, and the attending physician, Dr. Bloodgood, advised her to go away and recuperate. Mrs. Draper accordingly came to this city on last Friday and went to her father's house, 113 East Thirty-eighth street. Mr. Draper's mother took his wife's place at the bedside of the sick man.

A relative of Mr. Draper sald yesterday that the sick man labored under the impression that his wife did not intend coming back, and he reasoned that a notice of his death would hasten her return. He secretly prepared the death notice and forwarded it to the newspaper office. The notice had the desired effect. Mrs. Draper returned on Sunday, and the expected funeral had been abandoned.

ABDUCTED BY ORANG-OUTANG.

carried to their retreats and treated with the utmost politeness. In 1864 a young Bornean was missing and his friends con-cluded to ferret out the mystery. Well armed, they started to search through the jungles, and on the fifth day discovered on the bank of the Sakarang river the clothes and sword of their friend. Suddenly they heard a voice, and following the sound, discovered the missing fellow high up in a tree with an orang-ou-tang by his up in a tree with an orang-ou-tang by his side. A rifle shot brought the huge animal to the ground, when the happy man de-scended and told of his strange adventure. scended and told of his strange adventure. He had been out hunting and had gone to the river to bathe. Upon returning he was seized by the arms by the animal and was compelled to follow it. They arrived at the foot of a certain tree, where the youth made a hasty but inyoluntary ascent to the top, where he found himself a prisoner in comfortable lodging. Five days he remained, his weird hostess graciously supplying him every day with fruits and vegetables and bringing water in a cocoanut shell.

Investigation has proved that such facts are indisputable. The conviction is also shared by St. John, the author of a book on Bornean travels.

Too Much Water.

"And what do you think of our city?" asked the chief official of Venice of the American politician.
"It's very fine," said the American, "but your corporation reminds me of some of our American corporations—just a little too much water." From Harper's Bazar.

A Thoughtful Klondike Gift.

From Harper's Barar. From Harper's Hazar.
Our thanks are due to Miss Willoughby Watkins, of Ohio, for her kind thought of our real needs in forwarding to us a somewhat belated but none the less Christmas gift of a box of matches. We should distribute them among our friends were it not that they light only on the box.

PEED-IN-TRANSIT RATES WILL BE STOPPED APRIL 1.

Railroads Say Some Shippers Have Abused It and Made It Unjust-

Nebraska Not Included-

Visitors at the Yards.

The announcement by the railroads that there will be no feed in transit rates for Kansas feeders this year and that all such privileges will be cut off after April 1, is both in Texas and Kansas. All the railroads members of the trans-Missouri and South-western bureau have joined in the notice. The explanation of the railroads as to why they have taken this stand after allowing the privilege for so many years is that it was being greatly abused. The feed in tran-sit rate allowed the Southern shipper to sit rate allowed the Southern shipper to ship up to Kansas and fatten his cattle there, and then reship to market on the through rate. But it is said that the Southern shipper or Kansas buyer would often sell his cattle in Kansas and not turn over his through contract to the purchaser of the cattle, but sell it to an outside party and often realize a good sum for it, as the difference between the feed in transit rate and the local rate was $10 per car. The railroads want to break up this practice, and that is why they have decided to discontinue the feed in transit rate. If this is true, then the notice should extend to Nebraska, which, it is said, it does not do. There is no reason why Nebraska feeders should have a feed in transit rate and Kansas feeders none. And the cattlemen at the yards should see that no such gross discrimination is put into force.

discrimination is put, into force.

Abilene, Kas, Feb. 26.—(Special.) Secretary Rogers, of the State Cattlemen's Association, has received a letter from Governor Leedy, stating that he will address the state cattlemen's convention here on March 23. Governor Leedy says: "Abilene is a place of pleasant associations" for bim, referring to his nomination here. He will probably spend two days here. Major Calvin Hood, Senator John Hessin and other candidates for the Republican nomination for governor will also be present, and the meeting will take on a political aspect. The cattle interests are becoming so much identified with Central and Western Kansas that it has made it an important factor in the politics of this part of the state. The cattle feeders are making money this season, and they will unite in demanding better and more favorable facilities in rates and shipping. Among the matters in which they are interested is anti-oleo legislation, as it will increase the price of cows. At the creamery meeting the committee on legislation outlined a plan by which it is proposed to pledge every legislative candidate of all parties, and make a personal fight on behalf of the cattle interests on every candidate who is not pledged. Even state candidates are to be listed in the same manner.
